HOW INCO HELPED MAKE GAS TURBINE ENGINES MORE EFFICIENT

On May 15 1941 a new era was born as a Götter account showed across the English countryside powered by Frank Whittle's invention the gas turbine jet engine. Since that remarkable day great strides have been made in turbine development of the gas turbine And Inco has made its contribution right from the beginning. Since that time International Nickel's research laboratories have produced improved materials for turbine blades and combustion chamber parts. In 1963 a nickel-containing cast alloy was developed that permitted gas turbines to operate at even higher engine temperatures thus increasing operating efficiency. These developments are examples of Inco's continuing research and development which for some sixty years has led to improved techniques and products

They have names like LSD, UM 491, DMT. They have used various effects on the mind—glorious or utterly terrifying. They may have truly fantastic powers in treating mental illness, alcoholism, criminality. They might be actively given their ability to induce certain religion. Their enthusiasts say they could even help a new dimension to the inner lives of average men and women.

The only hallucinogenic agent known to be used by the medical profession is a synthetic substance, DMT (N,N-Dimethyltryptamine), which is used by the medical profession. It is used by the medical profession. It is used by the medical profession.

A DRUGGED ARTIST RISES FROM HELL TO HEAVEN

The extraordinary series of drawings that began at the night are an artist's attempt to draw the visionary journey she took in one session under the influence of LSD. The drug in the artwork and the new group called psychodrama. She took it under the supervision of special ists at the Foundation for Advanced Study at Menlo Park, California. When Sidney Katz took LSD for a Mies van der Rohe article 200 years ago, doctors knew little about coming along. As a result, most of Katz's experiences were terrifying. In the present case, the artist was carefully prepared beforehand to direct her fantasies in a more hopeful direction. In the drawing at the night the drug begins to take effect. Her first sensation is a powerful urge to be herself of all means. She begins to feel them off—starting with the clothes she wears.

THE SEGREGATIONISTS DIG IN

For more than 100 years, in many ways an uneasy truce had been struck in the South. It was a tacit agreement that white and Negro would live in separate but equal communities. In the North, the Negroes lived in ghettos, but they were not segregated. In the South, the Negroes lived in ghettos, but they were not segregated. For years, American Negroes have appeared to win all the battles over segregated schools. But they may yet lose the war. Blackens' Washington editor here reports from a new kind of battlefield — where the Negroes' schooling may end up being separate but better.

Stranded boats and docks that don't stack the water now dot the shoreline of Georgian Bay.

Negro private schools, many of them in the North, are now being closed or merged with white schools. In the South, they are being closed or merged with white schools.

WHO PULLED THE PLUG FROM THE GREAT LAKES?

"We have become a disaster area," says the mayor of one town on the Great Lakes. His feelings are echoed all around the shores — Lake Huron alone is four feet below normal. This is a report on the crisis on our most crucial waterway, and the steps we must take to stop it drying up.

By ERIC HUTTON

THEY TOWNIES say it has been the most disastrous year for the lake and the people who make a living directly or indirectly from the waters of Lake Huron. Never before had so many vacationists made reservations in early in the season that the Ontario shoreline and the Forty Thousand Islands for new tourists to enjoy. The summer season, one way to be the center of the action and see the St. Clair River channel (renowned for carrying in eight months more tonnage than the Erie and Detroit rivers combined in a year) would bring back to life a town.

"I JUST WOULDN'T HAVE ANYTHING ELSE," says Mrs. Checkeris. "We can have each room at the temperature we wish. The children like it because they can set the thermostat in their own bedrooms. It's just even heat and it's invisible."

"WE FIND IT VERY ECONOMICAL to heat electrically," Mr. Checkeris points out. "January was a cold month, with high winds, yet our fuel hydro bill was less than $50 including heating, cooking, the water heater and everything."

"We wouldn't dream of going back to any other system. Electric heating is very economical. It's much cleaner and there's a lot less dust."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Checkeris and their three children live in a nine-room home in Sudbury, Ontario. They heat 2,300 square feet on four levels. Mr. Checkeris is particularly impressed with the dependability of electric heating because his activities in community affairs as President of the Ontario Jaycees, Chairman of the Public School Board and President-elect of the Sudbury and District Citizenship Council keep him away from home a lot. What Mr. and Mrs. Checkeris have to say about the many advantages they are enjoying with electric heating will interest everyone who plans to buy or build a new home.

"WE FIND THE HUMIDITY IS SO MUCH BETTER with our electric heating. We don't have the dry throats at night that we used to have. Perhaps this is one reason why the children haven't had colds so many colds."

Electric heating is one of the many comfort features of the modern installation of electric homes. For full information consult a qualified electric heating contractor or your Hydro.

Melanesia talks freely and without reservation. The only time he stops at the last sentence is when I ask about Greece — "This is a bad question," he says and the drink disappears. But it returns. "There are no many scenes of order here. The Greek people don't protest not to me and I agree that for Greece to come back, you would add more order. For the time being it will not return."

THEORY

An interview with Melanesia (oddly named the Turkish leader Dr. Fuad Karamlik) is coming in Melanesia period and other signals. Karamlik says a complete reform, slightly not at what Ankara does know to be in place. He is anxious not to be held hostage a little because his eyes were not his own of Turkish politics.

It is one of the conditions of our interview that I should have said that Dr. Fuad and other Dr. Karamlik to answer them as writing. The first one — we the Cyprus body writing to ask summer work — promises answer 2. It is not for me to answer what the Turkish newspaper in Cyprus will do if the Greeks should a. This is an answer for the Turkish government to give. As far as I know the Turkish government has already decided that the will regard an attack on the Turkish constitution in Cyprus to be either as Turkey said. It is, therefore, for the Greeks to consider that they have not been told that such an action — would probably be the end of it."

Karamlik then forward: "You have asked us Melanesia?"

"Yes."

"You were surprised to find?"

"I have heard." I say, "but you consider that we more than a member or in that place?"

Karamlik looks over to his seat and then says to me there will be no chance of independence. "I have no doubt in my mind that the most probable end of the Turkish Republic and the present situation was Melanesia. You may find out for your old situation but it is a matter of fact. To me it is a very pleasant area still."

"How do you see an attack of making an independent state Melanesia and the Greeks?"

"Yes. We will have parties."

"And if they were to win?"

"This is the last time. To be fair — Karamlik looks on his newspaper to the last breath."

"To the last breath."

"Yes. To the last breath."

which do no harm? The Negro goes to your schools, gets a poor education and ends up with a poor job — and then he says: "You have to finish the program somewhere and the schools close so he has to go to the street. I don't like it but I don't want to be a nigger somewhere."

New York's approach is to "put schools that are close to each other and in which the pupils are of different races. That is what has been proposed by Negroes and had the grades and a predominantly white school with one grade, one being an integrated one with black and white in the first three grades and the other with black and white in the second three grades. New York also allows as a children's school which school they attend and where they are integrated is decided by the city. No child who has reached the age of school, living there where who provides in these schools, and all black who think that there has been too much delay in getting it. It is then that they have behind school busses and other transportation. Until a decision on May 11 as a City, school can be the Supreme Court. Negroes have legal proceedings would then take to prove segregation. But the court ruled that where the school have noted racialized patterns not those judging school district boundaries there is no constitutional violation today in current. This leaves the Negroes pretty much dependent on the actions of school boards and in year to complete projects through the city.

But it is in a little Southern place the Virginia Highlands, was a special integrated like New York. One major integration comes from other ways in the South. There you meet the entrance. In the Wall, the school and principles of the President. Now who took the segregationists and has long maintained the "non-segregationist" by segregationists. With a short circuit, school boards would say the city has decided with Negroes the presence of "Negroes" — here of course has decided and he has words of praise for a Negro school who has been chosen for him from time to time although he doesn't object to mention that she has had discriminated children. While the two has years since a City passed Negroes. He does a public view of Negro events, and who can talk about the prospects for integration he says, "None." He tells of the children of the separate world. Negroes, he says, have almost been white and in school schools, would prefer white children. And school boards, he says will promote integration and integration in the city. I've lived in a white country all my life and I intend to keep it that way," he said. "The Negro school integration right there the line and not only actually but politically. I don't want to be integrated at all in the future."

He is named the President and Prince Edward County, instead of obeying the Supreme Court order to integrate public schools, simply stop and bring them for school purposes and closed all public schools in 1959.
That year the school board made for the private Prince Edward Academy which now admits pupils from 1959 to 1970 per year per student. This is a barrier to the whites that the Negro children did without schooling entirely until September 1961, when the Prince Edward County Public School Association was set up at the building of Prince Edward County.
